Fish & Game Trophy Night Successful

Coleman Fish and Game Association held a very successful Trophy Night in the Legion hall March 9th, attended by over 100 sportsmen and their wives.

Speakers at the event included Joe Balla, president of the Alberta Fish and Game Association; Gordon Haugen, District Fish Biologist and Gaylen Armstrong, District Game Biologist, all of Lethbridge.

Introduced to the audience by chairman Al Krywolt were Rangers Ed Herford and Al Gamin of Coleman, and P. Woodward, game officer of Pincher Creek.

Club secretary Feruccio Dececco reported on the progress being made by the Coleman Association on the new dam project being built northwest of Coleman. Mr. Dececco also gave a complete breakdown on the coverage provided by the insurance covering the members of the local association.

Acting president of the Coleman Association, Orazio Celli, was commended and also working members of the association for the efforts they have put forth to build the new dam site.

Films on local wildlife and wildlife in Alaska were shown by Mike Pisony of Fernie, B.C.

Trophies were then presented to the following sportsmen for their entries in various events:

Elk, Ted Michalski, Melvin Pisony and L. Beaver.

Moose, Eric Gudmundson.

Mountain Sheep, John Truant, Jerry Fisher and James Price.

White Tail Deer, Ted Michalski, Miller Fleming and John Truant. Mule Deer, Paul Filewich, Miller Fleming and Terry Weber.

Antelope, Bob Williams and Jack Kerr.

Winners of the fish trophies: Mrs. Connie Michalski and Jas. Price for trout taken in stream; Harry Seaba took both prizes for trout taken in lakes, and James Price took both prizes for Dolly Varden.

Joe Zak was awarded the trophy provided by William Bullthorpe of Roundhill, for the club member selling most membership tickets in the local club during the year.

Junior Forest Wardens Enjoy Winter Camp-out

Twenty-four Coleman Junior Forest Wardens and their leaders enjoyed a winter camp-out on the week-end of February 24 and 25.

The club travelled to an area south east of the Kananaskis road about five miles north of Coleman by means of trucks supplied by the Forestry (Mr. A. Gehman and Mr. D. Herford), Gordon Marconi and Mrs. Pitt. Mr. Proc and the Nelson boys also used their cars for transportation.

The equipment was transported from the road to the camp site by toboggans and pack boards and consisted mainly of a sleeping bag and clothes for each boy. By night fall all five patrols had provided completely adequate shelter for themselves as well as bough beds, fireplaces, drying racks or lines and a good meal.

For the most part, travel was only possible on snow shoes or skis due to the three-foot depth of snow. Many of the boys used the snow shoes they had made themselves earlier in the season and found them very satisfactory. The camp activities were led by Patrol Leaders Gary George, Glen Wikstrom, Robert Aiello, Ed Proc and Allan Tuckwood, supervisors Allan Spievak, Larry Nelson, Garry Nelson, Doug Usiski, and John Dean providing assistance where necessary.

In addition to the experience so gained in setting up a camp under winter conditions the boys were also given instruction in snaring small game with some practical applications.

As the campsites were a minimum half mile apart and the nearest over a mile from the trucks, Mr. Kerr and Mr. Celli and their Ski-doo's were very welcome helpers when the climb was started back to the Kananaskis road.

J. F. W.'s participating were: Domenico Dipinto, Jackie Hummel, Terry Aris (Blairmore), Walter Sekella, Jim Duncan, Doug Littlewood, Ross Pitt, Robert D. Kin, Jerry Kay, Bill Gibson, Brant Tarcon, Ward Krywolt, Tim Juhlin, James Haiav, Henry Proc, Ricky Skrzyzala, Peter Kinneer and Leland Marconi.

Crows Nest Industries Purchased by Kaiser Coal Ltd

Jack L. Ashby, president of Kaiser Coal Ltd., and William R. Prentice, president of Crows Nest Industries Limited announced today the formal closing in Vancouver, B.C., of the purchase by Kaiser Coal from Crows Nest of extensive holdings of coking coal properties in the Fernie, B.C., area.

Kaiser Coal Ltd., a wholly-owned Canadian subsidiary of Kaiser Steel Corporation, announced on January 30, 1968, that it had reached an agreement to supply more than 45 million tons of coking coal from the Crows Nest properties to the Japanese steel industry.

Initially, Kaiser Coal Ltd. will operate the mines at about the same rate of production as in the past few months with shipments to customers in Canada as already scheduled. Also, Kaiser Coal Ltd. will continue shipments of coking coal to Japan in approximately the same volume as Crows Nest has been doing.

At the same time Kaiser Coal Ltd. will proceed immediately with the long range development of the coal properties to prepare for the large scale commitments covered in the new Japanese contract.

The goal is to develop strip mine operations to a rate of 200,000 tons a month by early fall of 1969, building up to an annual rate of 4,000,000 tons by April, 1970.

Jehovah's Witnesses attend convention in Tober

Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their three-day convention in Tober on Sunday afternoon, March 10th.

"The program was arranged," said Mr. John Jones, Minister of the Pass Congregation. "To provide instruction and application of Bible principles in our social and religious lives."

"The Saturday program was directed to the fathers as family heads," Mr. Jones said, "encouraging them to take the lead in the education of their household in Bible principles and setting the example for them in morals and moral cleanliness." He continued, "A progressive Bible study was pointed to as a must to fortify families for the future."

More than 700 listened to J. F. MacPherson, District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses on Sunday, when he delivered the widely advertised public lecture "Why Does God Permit Wickedness?"

Mr. MacPherson said, "Many people state 'If there is a God why does He permit wickedness?' This is a question that needs answering now. The right answer can be found only in the Bible. He pointed to the Creation of the first human pair in Eden as free moral agents, able to choose between right and wrong. 'The Bible itself states that they chose the course of disobedience, resulting in sin and death for all mankind,' he declared.

Mr. MacPherson concluded the three-day program by urging all to act now because this wicked system of things is soon to come to a close. "We must take in accurate knowledge concerning this vital question, so that we may receive of God's protection and eternal blessing."

Letter to the Editor

Niagara-on-the-Lake,
March 2, 1968.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Holstead:

Just a few lines with my subscription renewal to say hello again to both of you.

My 1967 trip was a real success. The highlight of course, was renewing acquaintances and surprising so many old neighbors and friends.

I also made some very nice new friends.

Everyone as usual was so kind and thoughtful. I think too I could be happier with my memories if I could have brought back a mountain or two. I love them so much.

As you know my stay in Coleman was shortened to enable me to be with Bill Petrunik and family in Lethbridge before he left

I stopped over in Montana with a former Colemanite, Mrs. Sophie (Simla) McCoy. Went on for a day of sight-seeing in Salt Lake City, then a few days in Las Vegas.

Arriving back in California July 24th I discovered that I had only four days to rest and pack before the homeward journey to Ontario. Doris was having forty fits wondering where I was as they were leaving a few weeks sooner than I expected.

In September I came back to Niagara-on-the-Lake, after a week of rest with Virginia and family at the cottage in the Muskoka region.

October found me with friends at Expo and another trip in the States to see the beautiful autumn colors at Lake Placid and through the Adirondack Mountains in all their glory. All in all I have had such a wonderful year—the Rockies in the spring-time and the Eastern mountains in the fall.

I thank God for good health and so many kind friends everywhere. Again Mildred and Tom thank you for your kindness. I hope you are both keeping well. It was so nice to see you both again.

Everyone here is fine and I am trying to settle down.

Sincerely,

Virginia Petrunik.

C.A.C. - Canadian Association of Consumers—Looks at Drug Prices

The following article appeared in The Edmonton Journal Wednesday, February 7th: "Less than a dozen Albertans have responded to the Consumer Association of Canada's request for information regarding drug prices.

A member of the Edmonton branch CAC said some letters received stated that no difference in price had been noted. Others said only a minor reduction in price had been felt.

Notice of survey on drug prices first appeared in newspapers in December when the national CAC requested help from provincial branches in collecting information on whether drug prices had been noticeably lower since the removal in September of a federal 10-11 per cent tax.

Letters from branches across Canada will be forwarded to Mrs. W. A. Brechin, studies chairman on the CAC national board of directors, Ottawa.

Concerned consumers in Alberta are asked to mail their drug prices facts, comments or questions to P. O. Box 5112, Edmonton".

Since we do so much complaining about the "rising cost of living" perhaps we should try to do something about it, when the opportunity arises.

The CAC organization tries to help the consumer — US — by making sure that products live up to the claims of their manufacturers.

Other objectives of the CAC are:

- 1—To curb misleading advertising.
- 2—To have stores lower prices instead of spending money on premiums and coupons.
- 3—To have labels on injurious household products contain prominent warning of the danger.
- 4—To make certain meat you buy is from healthy animals and in good condition.
- 5—To have words used to describe quality, like "red" beef, grade 'A' eggs, 'Choice' canned fruits, 'No. 1' fresh fruit, 'first grade' butter, "milk fed" chicken, etc., to become more uniform and mean something definite.

Two items of legislation that CAC have helped with recently are:

- 1—We are now able to obtain a clear statement of what it costs us for interest and service charges when we buy on time payments.
- 2—Bacon packages now show the whole slice, not just the attractive edge.

Did You Know?

CAC is a non-profit, non-sectarian and non-political organization. It obtains its money from its membership fees, although the Canadian government contributes some as well. The membership fees are only $3.00 per year — a very small price to pay for obtaining better legislation to help us lower our cost of living and to know what products, chemicals, etc., are in the item we buy, and if they can be injurious to our health. I'm sure we all waste more than $3.00 per year on inferior products. By the way—what do you do about these products . . . throw them away? You should tell the retailer, and the manufacturer about them. If they are a good company they want to know about defects.

What other benefits to you receive if you join CAC?

- 1—Your opinions will go through CAC to manufacturers to help them improve their products.
- 2—You will receive a bi-monthly booklet containing buying guides, the results of consumer product tests when conducted, and other information for better buying.
- 3—Your views will be presented to government bodies to encourage the passage and enforcement of better laws for consumer protection.

CAC Needs You Because:

Its influence with governments and manufacturers increases as its membership grows. It can achieve more, especially in the testing of consumer products, as it has more money.

It is a little sad to see that only 20,000 people in Canada belong to CAC.

I belong to it, as well as the Consumer Union in the United States, which publishes a monthly publication, The Consumer Reports. They have the same aims and objectives as their Canadian counterpart, but are able to do far more testing of products — from cars to soap pads, because people belong to it. So why don't you do it now . . . join CAC, by sending $3.00 to:

and ask to become a member. You need the organization and it needs you!

There is a Lethbridge branch of the Consumers' Association of Canada. It was recently formed with the visit of Mrs. P. M. Gray, past president of the Edmonton branch, to the city. President is Mrs. C. Tyrrell of Lethbridge. First vice-president is Mr. I. D. Coffell of Coaldale. Secretary-treasurer is Mrs. M. Myslake, 1243, 6th Ave. A. South, telephone 328-2209.

To Reside at Lac La Biche

St. Angela's Roman Catholic Church, Edmonton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Kathryn Ann Darlene Stefanik, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stefanik of Lac La Biche exchanged marriage vows with James A. Lant, youngest son of Mrs. Anna Bodisch and the late Mr. G. Lant of Coleman, Alberta.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Mc-Grave of Edmonton. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length gown of lace over satin accented by a flowing train of lace. Her triple tiered veil of illusion net was held in place by three organza flowers and seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of sweet-heart roses.

Bridesmaids, Deana Grandinetti, Carol Boreksa and Pauline Stefanik, bride's sister wore floor length gowns of pink peau de soie and lace. Their headpieces were ti-aras and they carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Attending the groom was Jim Noasad of Coleman, Bill Boreksa and Gary Benluk of Lac La Biche. Bill Lant and Romeo Bevelagua were ushers.

The bride's mother looked lovely in a navy two-piece suit with white accessories. The groom's mother also looked lovely in a deep violet wool lace two-piece suit with pink accessories.

After the ceremony the wedding reception and dance were held at the Bonaventure Motor Hotel in Edmonton.

Carol, Connie and Sandra Lant, nieces of the groom, were in charge of the guest book. The bride table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. Bill Boreksa was master of ceremonies. The happy couple left for a honeymoon to points west and Coleman. They will reside at Lac La Biche where the groom is employed.

Out of town guests were from Natal, B. C.; Coleman, Blairmore, Lac La Biche, Fort McMurray, and Brooks.
